REDBIRD BASKETBALL

To whom it May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Jack Bullock and his website, A Baseline View.

It has been my pleasure to know Jack and to consider him a friend over the years I have been head boys' basketball coach. However, It also has been a great resource to me to use his website almost daily during the high school basketball season. In addition, I use his website routinely even during the so-called "off-season" of boys basketball.

On A Baseline View, Mr. Bullock's team reviews are insightful and accurate. The game scores and conference standings are promptly updated. He also has hard-to-find tournament brackets and pairings throughout the season and the post-season.

A Baseline View is not to be confused with blog sites or an Internet site for outsiders' opinions. This is not a site for one to rant and rave or to complain. Mr. Bullock takes great care to be professional, concise, and objective. I know of no boys' basketball that does not use A Baseline View.

If you need more information or have any questions regarding Jack Bullock's A Baseline View, please contact me anytime.

Most sincerely,

Kevin Toney
